Again to-day the railway group sustained the heaviest losses, but the declines were rather uniform and showen to especial pressure in any one directions.

St. Paul, Atchison, Pennsylvania, Beading, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific were weak at the lowest figures of the Gay, with little support shown. Southern Pacific and Missouri Pacific, in which James R. Keene and the Junior Gouid-Rocketeller pool are the chief operators, showed greater declines than any other stocks with equally strong support.

Missouri Pacific fell be below 110, while Southern Pacific fell below 70 for the first time since Mr. Keene's return from Europe.

The selling of L. & N. and Mannattan was on a par with that in Southann Pacific and demonstrated that liquidation is still a necessity before the situation is appreciably bettered.

CAPITAL, $6,000,000. NEW YORK LIFE BUILDING, NEW YORK. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON

DIRECTORS:

General Counsel:

JOHN G. CARLISLE, Ex-Secretary of the Treasury.

Registrar and Transfer Agent:
THE CORPORATION TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

The organization of the United States Bankers Corporation has been effected for the purpose of broadening the benefits of Trust-Company Demonstration of the earning power of Trust Companies and their great and growing usefulness is found on every hand, and thoughtful students of finance predict for them ultimate supremacy over all other banking institutions. Preliminary suggestion of the scope of this Corporation, made with a view of securing opinions from the entire country, has brought a great ne of correspondence from banking men, commending plans and ing subscriptions to capital. This correspondence has shown conclusively that the field in which this Corporation can assist is a wide one, and that its permanent strength will be materially added to by avoiding concentration in the holding of its

In pursuance of this policy the present public offering of two and onehalf millions of Treasury stock at par is herewith made, consisting of 250,000 shares of the par value of $10.00 each.

The United States Bankers Corporation is organized under the General Corporation Law: its stockholders, therefore are not subject to extra liability. Its object is to assist in establishing Trust and Deposit Companies in forty or more cities of the United States. It is expected that in every instance this Corporation will own control of the Trust Companies so or ganized, and that the alliances so formed will speedily provide a large volume of profitable business for each of these Trust Companies, which turn must naturally result in early appreciation in value of the shares of

To those who are not familiar with the sources of profit open to Trust Companies and denied to all other chartered banking institutions, the following partial list of such sources will be instructive:

Legal depository for court and other trust funds.

Acting as executor, guardian, receiver, assignee or trustee under agreement appointment of court.

Management of estates, care of property.

Acting as fiscal agent for corporations.

Acting as registrar and transfer agent in issuing and transferring stocks.

and bonds.

Acting as custodian of wills and other valuable papers.

Acting as agent of married women in management of separate estates.

Furnishing bonds for agents, executors, administrators, etc.

The work of organization is being actively carried on, and, in several cities where existing charters can be utilized, is even now well under way. In offering this portion of the Treasury stock of the United States Bankers Corporation at par, it is well to invite attention to the fact that is unusual for shares of this character to be offered publicly for subscription, therefore, the outline of operations here presented is made as complete as possible. The following definite statements are made regarding assets and income: Securities of Trust Companies which will be held by this Corporation representing the control of such companies will remain as permanent assets; they cannot be sold without a majority vote of the shareholders.

Increase of values of such securities will be counted increase of surplus. The sources of revenue for this Corporation will consist of dividends on stock of Trust Companies, income from sale of rights and from use of rights of the special system of work.

of Trust Companies, income from sale of rights and from use of rights of the special system of work.

Not less than one and one half millions of Treasury stock will remain in the Treasury until the control of at least ten Trust Companies has been acquired. If it should then be decided to sell any portion of this Treasury sthat, the price above par at which it will be offered must be decided by unanimous vote of the Directors.

By these provisions, and many lesser ones, the interests to the Corporation and of the individual stockholders are safeguarded. In conformity with the central idea of avoiding concentration, the outside limit of a single subscription which will be accepted is 2,000 shares ($20,000). The lowest limit of subscription is ten shares ($100). Subscription books will be opened on October 25th, and the stock thes
